"And where we reach
the boundaries of human cognition, the music goes beyond
them, into a world that you don't know, just to guess.,,

(Kodály Z.)

During the Masterclasses ...

The International JÁVORKAI Masterclasses are held daily from Monday to Friday with personal and active participation for all applicants, while at the same time passively listening to any course for all participants. The repertoire consists of pieces taken and new ones can be learned during the course. In the afternoon, chamber sessions, workshops, and workshops help you develop your music.

Closing the Masterclasses ...

The International JÁVORKAI Masterclasses will end with a public concert on Saturday afternoon, which will take place in the University's high-quality, acoustic concert hall. At the concert, the participants can act as soloists, as well as with each other and with their art teachers, so they can experience the experience of joint preparation and music.

Finally the Masterclasses ...

For each participant, we will issue a Diploma confirming participation in International JÁVORKAI Masterclasses, which will be signed and handed in personally by the teaching artists, summarizing and evaluating the whole weekly development, work and achievements.
